THE COURTS.

THE FULLERTON CASE-THE PROSPECT OF AN

EARLY TRIAL. The District-Attorney, Mr. Courtney, in addressing the Court in reference to the above matter, said: dressing the Court in reference to the above matter, said:

"If the Court please, your Honor will recollect that in the case of the United States against William Fullerton and others, which was set down for trial in February, on the 10th of February it was suspended by direction of the Attorney-General until forther orders. I have received from the acting Attorney-General at Washington, a letter, in which he states that the President of the United States has authorized me to proceed, at the earliest possible moment, with the trial of the case of William Fullerton and others. I decur it my duty, in view of these instructions, and also in conformity with my own ideas, and impressions, to ask the Court to set down as early a day as possible, consistent with its other duties, for the trial of the case. I shall read, if Your Honor please, the letter, to inform the Court of its contents.

The Court—It is not necessary to read the letter.

Mr. Courtney—I should like to have as early a day as possible assigned, that I might give the parties notice of the trial of the case. There are various reasons, independent of the directions of the President, why I should make this application for a speedy trial.

The Court—By the arrangements made some months ago I am unable to sit in this Court prior to May, except on Saturdays, to try causes which will occupy only a day. That arrangement is at present existing, and unless the Presiding Judge of the Court suggests to me that it is more desirable to hold Court here in April than in May, I do not expect to take up any long causes before May.

Mr. Courtney—Then I understand your Honor to say that this ease, with the present arrangement of the Court, caunot be tried till April or May, and not till May unless the Presiding Justice requests your Honor to hold Court in April.

The Court—Yes, that is the arrangement. "If the Court please, your Honor will recollect that in the

THE CASE OF FISK AGAINST THE PACIFIC RAIL-ROAD.

The case of Jas. Fisk, jr., against the Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad, was brought up before a referee, at No. 20 Nassau-st., Saturday, a stay of edings in the case having been agreed on by counproceedings in the case having been agreed on by coun-sel. The examination was brought to a sudden stop, however, by a winness on behalf of plaintiff refusing to be sworn, on the ground that the defendants had taken the suit out of the hunds of the referee, by serving subpe-nas, and thus endeavoring to continue the suit at law, after the Judge had ordered a stay of proceedings. Ow-ing to the informality complained of, the hearing was adjourned, after much learned argument on both sides, for judicial consideration.

Estaban Amengual agt. The Steamship Hunts-Estaban Amengual agt. The Steamship Hunts-tille.—This was a suit brought by the Captain and owner of the Spanish ship Kueva Aurelia to recover $60,000 from the owners of the steamship Huntsville, for damages sus-fained by the Nueva Aurelia by being run into by the Huntsville, on the 20th of March, 1806, while sailing be-tween Cuba and Florida. The Court, on due considera-tion of all the proofs, ordered a decree in favor of the li-belant, with a reference to ascertain and report the amount of damage.

ling goods by means of faise pretenses. The complainant, Simon Hays, a members of the firm of Mesers, Hays & Co., doing business at Xes. 21 and 23 White-st., said that on the 20th of September hast the prisoner called upon him at his place of business and desired to purchase goods on a credit of 30 days. He then represented that he had been in the habt of buring goods from Mesers. Stethelmer & Co.; but as they had failed they consequently had not the goods to sell him. Hamhin then selected goods worth $1.478, at which time he represented that he owned his stock of goods in Danville, all paid for; that he had $5,500 in cash; that he did not owe a doilar to anybody, but was entirely free from debt. From the representations thus made and a partial acquaintance with the prisoner, Hays was induced to sell him the goods selected on a credit of 30 days. Late in Nevember Mr. Hays received intelligence that the goods of Hamlin had been seized by the Sheriff of Livingston County, to satisfy a judgment of $5,500, obtained by Eliza Wolf of Danville, that he owed $1,500 to other parties, and that these debts had been contracted by Hamlin previous to buying the goods of Hays. The prisoner was committed to the Tombs to await an examination.
